

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

P.K. Tiwary, Principal

Banwari Sahu Mahavidyalaya is a co-educational degree college. It is situated at Banpur, Latehar. It was established in 15 April 1984 by some eminent personalities interested in the social and educational development of the backward region of Latehar and its adjoining areas. An enlightened person like The first Secretary Late Kedar Nath Gupta, Late Suraj Prasad and Late Dargahi Sahu took interest and decided to establish a degree college. The required land was donated by Late Paro Kunwar and Tetri Kunwar, the widows of renowned Business man and Social Worker Late Banwari Sahu. Hence the College was named after him. Prof. Deepak Kumar Sinha , an honest disciplined and a man of academic interest was the first Principal of Banwari Sahu Mahavidyalaya. Who incalculated a sense of high ideas in the students of the college right from the begning. The College got affiliation in 1987 from Ranchi University and in 2009 became the part of Nilamber-Pitamber University. At present college having Permanent affiliation in Arts & Commerce The College is registered under section 2f of the UGC Act in 2017. The College has well qualified and experienced faculty members who ensure students satisfaction in the thirst for knowledge.

Secretary's Message

It is a matter of immense pleasure that college is going to publish revised prospectus after the accreditation by NAAC. It will help the students in knowing about everything of the college.

I hope that our Lecturers will work with honesty and dedication and there by contribute to make our country a better place to live in.

with best wishes
